

Treasury Department,

BUREAU OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., ~~April 16, 1890,~~ 189

The Superintendent, U.S. Mint,

Philadelphia, Pa.

Sir:

You will instruct Mr. Boyd to execute a new bond as required by the Department. The fact that one of the sureties is dead, and the property which has passed to heirs is difficult to follow, would operate somewhat to relieve the other surety, and the Department is of the opinion he should execute another bond at once.

Very respectfully,

Director,

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 162

Treasury Department,
Bureau of the Mint,
Washington, D.C.
April 16, 1890

The Superintendent, U.S. Mint,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Sir:

You will instruct Mr. Boyd to execute a new bond as required by the Department. The fact that one of the sureties is dead, and the property which has passed to heirs is difficult to follow, would operate somewhat to relieve the other surety, and the Department is of the opinion he should execute another bond at once.

Very respectfully,
E.O. Leech
Director.